Says Thousands Of Doukhobors Will Settle Here

Peter Veregin Announces That 20,000 to 30,000 Will Immigrate From Europe in "Near Future"—Declares Established Colonies Will Accept Responsibility for Welfare of Newcomers

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5 (CP).—Between 20,000 and 30,000 Doukhobors will immigrate to Canada from Europe "within the near future," Peter Veregin, leader of the sect in the Dominion, said here tonight.

He said Doukhobor communities in the four Western Provinces could accept responsibility for the welfare of the newcomers, but did not indicate in what province they would settle.

WILL MEET REQUIREMENTS
Veregin said all immigration requirements will be met, and added that arrangements had already been completed for housing the Doukhobor settlers. They will be supplied with land, homes, stock and farm implements on their arrival. They would not become public charges, the leader asserted.

The gigantic movement will start as soon as final reception arrangements can be completed. Though Veregin made no mention of where the immigrants will be placed, it was thought they will be scattered in Doukhobor communities of long standing in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

ARE NOT IN DEBT
Strengthening a statement that the influx of Doukhobors will not put a burden on either Provincial or Dominion Governments, Veregin said that while the settlements under his charge are feeling the effects of the depression, Doukhobors owe no money and have discharged all taxation obligations. In the case of those who have deserted the communities, he said if they return they will be treated as if they had not left.

Veregin appealed to the Canadian people "for a Christianlike and humane welcome" to the new settlers. "I feel Canadians will receive them with the same measure of sympathy that they have accorded the former migrations of Doukhobors into the Dominion."

UNDERGROUND RAILWAY FLOODED IN LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—London tonight experienced one of the worst rainstorms of the year. The down-pour flooded underground railways in many districts and also thousands of basements in the lower part of the city. No casualties were reported.

LINDBERGH AT NORTHERN POST

Flying Couple Reach Aklavik Following Long Nonstop Flight

AKLAVIK, N.W.T., Aug. 5 (CP).—The metropolis of the North, Aklavik, 130 miles within the Arctic Circle, paid homage to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, radio operator of the Tokyo-bound plane, today.

A fast dash over more than 1,000 miles of barren land country from Baker Lake, at the eastern end of the far-flung Northwest Territories, brought the flying couple and their flight-companion to Aklavik in exactly 11 1/2 hours, the longest non-stop aerial hop in the history of the Northland.

PERFECT LANDING
They brought their low-wing Lockheed Sirius monoplane to a perfect landing on the placid waters of Peel Channel, just as dawn streaked across the Arctic sky.

Greeted by the score of white residents of the town, and the more than 300 Eskimo dwellers here, the daring United States flyers were soon ashore and enjoying the hospitality of this far North settlement. "We'll have to rest first," said the colonel, when he planned the continuation of the flight to Point Barrow, a hop of six hours—336 miles—to the west of here, in Alaska.

FEWER CANADIANS MOVE TO STATES

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 5.—The State Department announced today a decrease of 71.3 per cent in Canadian immigration into the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30. A total of 14,778 visas were issued to Canadians in that period as compared with 41,984 during the previous fiscal year.

RESIGNS SEAT IN QUEBEC COUNCIL

QUEBEC, Aug. 5.—Hon. Gordon Scott, member of the legislative council and minister without portfolio in the Taschereau Cabinet, has resigned his seat in the upper chamber. Hon. Mr. Scott was succeeded as legislative councillor by W. S. Bullock, M.L.A. for Sherbrooke.

It is understood Mr. Scott will contest a Montreal seat in the provincial general elections set for August 24.

Major C. G. Power, chief district Liberal organizer, stated yesterday that Mr. Scott would contest the seat of St. George, Montreal, against C. E. Ouellet, Conservative.

BOY DIED BUT LOVE REMAINS

Bishop of London Loses Friend and Protege of Several Years

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP).—Two devoted friends—the Bishop of London and a boy who became an invalid from a football accident—have been parted by death.

The friendship began some years ago, when Dr. W. S. Fulton, a young man, met the bishop while walking in Fulham. He learned that his name was Allen Beaumont Bessey and that his father had been killed in the war. Thereafter he acted as a kind of adopted father to the boy.

A few months ago Allen was injured at football. Complications set in and he was finally taken to a London nursing home. Every day the bishop managed to find time to spend at least a quarter of an hour at the bedside of his young friend.

MOVED TO PALACE
So much did Allen look forward to these visits that the bishop decided to move him to his own residence. The boy, his mother and a nurse, all moved to Fulham Palace, but the boy failed rapidly and died.

The bishop then arranged for him to be buried as near the palace as possible, and in a quiet green corner at All Saints' Church his grave was dug. The bishop himself conducted part of the funeral service and on the grave laid a wreath with these words: "They lie who say that love can die."

Blazing Forest of Northwest Making Scenes of Terror

Work of Incendiaries Causes Million-Dollar Damage—Multitude of Wild Animals Trapped by Flames in Burning Timber

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 5 (AP).—Secret agents of the Federal Forest Service went into the blazing timber lands of the Northwest today to try to catch incendiaries who set at least 100 fires.

Meanwhile fire lines were tightened today in all forests. Airplanes roared ceaselessly over the coniferations, spotting and charting fires, and estimates were that the worst of them could be controlled by the first of next week unless the weather became more dangerous.

FAMILIES FLEE BEFORE BLAZE

Fire Raging on Fifteen-Mile Front Endangers Towns in Okanagan

COVILVER, B.C., Aug. 5.—Roaring its way over the pine-clad hills in the Camp McKinney, Rock Creek and Bridesville district, a forest fire with a fifteen-mile front has swept away crops, cattle and ranches, and caused many families to flee for their lives.

Truckloads of fire-fighters are being rushed to the blaze in an effort to check it before it reaches the power line of the West Kootenay Power Company, in which event all towns in the Okanagan Valley from Kelowna south, would be plunged into darkness.

EVERY MAN WORKING
Efforts are being made to check the fire at Camp McKinney, where more than one hundred men are mobilized. Every able-bodied man in the district and as far north as Penticton has been pressed into service by the fire wardens.

The fire started several days ago, and was brought to bay a mile

Horrors of Black Ant Invasion Most Terrible of Jungle

Dr. W. S. Fulton and Daughter Return From 8,000-Mile Tour Through Wilds of Africa and Asia—Many Fine Museum Specimens Obtained—Insect Life Is Filmed

IN big game hunting, like in many other things, it's the little things that cause the most trouble. Hunting lions, tigers, leopards, vicious water buffalo, cheetahs and other fauna not particularly notorious for vegetarian diet, may be regarded as dangerous sport, but big black ants that swarm around in their millions devouring all in sight can give even a big-time big game hunter plenty to worry about.

So at least Dr. W. S. Fulton, physician of Wheeling, W. Va., and big game hunter of parts, has reason to believe. He arrived here yesterday on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan from the Far East after completing an 8,000-mile hunting tour through the hinterlands of British East Africa, Indo-China, Siam, Sumatra, Mombassa and the Malay Peninsula.

Dr. Fulton, who went in search of beasts that roar, came back with much respect for silent little ants that work systematically and in great numbers.

SWARMS OF ANTS
Millions of these black ants, sporting long, attenuated bodies and pincer jaws, swarmed into the tent where Dr. Fulton and his courageous twenty-two-year-old daughter, Nancy, were sleeping last Christmas night and took possession of the shelter. The air was dense with them and they swarmed in thousands over the big game hunter and his daughter. Dr. Fulton managed to escape death only by setting pangas—large native hunting spears—around the tent.

Both Parties Confident of P.E.I. Victory

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Aug. 5 (CP).—As the voters of this "Garden of the Gulf" tonight prepared to march to the polls in tomorrow's provincial general election, leaders of both the Liberal and Conservative parties professed confidence in victory.

To gain control of the province's Government, Hon. J. D. Stewart, Conservative chief, will have to win nine seats held by Liberals supporting Premier W. M. Lea in the last Legislature.

Actual standing in the Assembly at dissolution was twenty-two Liberals and six Conservatives. Two of the province's thirty seats, however, were vacant, one having been held by each party.

The grizzly charged. Coultier struggled desperately and managed to jerk the muzzle of his rifle into the gaping mouth of the blood-streaked bear, although unable to fire it.

New Canada-Australia Trade Agreement Now in Effect by Proclamations

Premier R. B. Bennett Announces Completion of Pact—Dominion Hopes to Gain Large Amount of Commerce Previously Enjoyed by Foreign Countries—Opportunities Are Vast

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (CP).—The new Canada-Australia trade agreement has been proclaimed in both countries. Announcement to this effect was made today by Premier R. B. Bennett. Issuing of proclamations in Canada and Australia today brings the new tariff arrangements under the agreement between the two countries into immediate operation.

Canada gets the British preferential tariff of 415 out of 433 items in the Australian tariff under the agreement now proclaimed in a potential market of $630,000,000 annually. Of this amount in the past Australia has been purchasing $300,000,000 a year from foreign countries.

NEW TRADE SEEN
The official feeling is that most of these purchases will be transferred to Canada.

Lumber, canned salmon, newspaper and motor car chassis unassembled are among the main commodities in which this country benefits. While under the old agreement there was no preference on lumber shipped from this country, Canada will now enjoy a preference of 45 per cent. While the general tariff was formerly 17 1/2 per cent, it is now 32 1/2 per cent, which applies to the United States. Approximately $3,000,000 in value of motor car chassis were shipped to Australia from this country last year, while the United States exported $16,500,000.

SALMON DUTIES
On canned salmon the preference is increased from three to six cents per pound. Last year there was an export of $2,500,000 worth of this commodity from Canada to Australia.

An increased advantage on motor car chassis unassembled will be enjoyed. The former rate was 22 1/2 per cent against Canada. Under the new agreement the rate will only be 15 per cent. While the general tariff was formerly 17 1/2 per cent, it is now 32 1/2 per cent, which applies to the United States. Approximately $3,000,000 in value of motor car chassis were shipped to Australia from this country last year, while the United States exported $16,500,000.

New Zealand Is Reviewing Trade Treaty

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 5 (CP).—Premier G. W. Fox has received a communication from the Government of Canada regarding tariff negotiations between the two Dominions. He announced today he would make a statement in connection with it shortly.

Since New Zealand withdrew the benefits of the British preference from Canadian imports no special arrangement as to tariff has existed between Canada and New Zealand.

District Loganberry Growers Capture New Markets in England

Sale of 5,000 Cases to British Buyers and Disposals to Wineries Create Better Conditions in Saanich and Gordon Head

WITH the marketing in England of 5,000 cases of canned loganberries from the canneries of Gordon Head and Saanich, and the sale of 130 tons to wineries, conditions in the industry, insofar as the Island is concerned, have been greatly improved, according to reports given out by officials of the grower companies.

In the Gordon Head and Saanich groups, there was some doubt earlier in the year with regard to prospects of marketing a full crop and it appeared as though the available fruit would be left on the vines. Through timely assistance of officers of the two growers' organizations, the English market was made available with the result that additional profit is being realized from the crop this season.

SAYS OFFENSIVE HAS COMMENCED

Head of Canton Insurgents Says Troops Starting Northward—War Chest of $5,000,000

HONGKONG, Aug. 5 (AP).—Wang Ching Wei, head of the Canton Insurgent Government, announced today the military offensive against the Nationalist Government had begun, with troops marching northward to oust President Chiang Kai Shek at Nanking.

Wang said a war chest of $5,000,000 would be provided.

With the recent statement by Chiang that he had suppressed outlawry by Red and bandit armies in Kiangsi Province, Wang asserted the reason for delaying the campaign against the Government was removed and fighting would begin soon.

Two columns of insurgents were reported moving with a clash upon at Hengchow, Hunan Province, with the Nationalist first line of defense.

CARED FOR CROP
There have been sold to the wineries fifty-five tons of loganberries from Gordon Head growers. To the British market for the 4,000 cases, it is said.

CONSTRUCTIVE PROPOSALS

Mr. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Labor, has made proposals to the Provincial Cabinet which show he has constructive ideas for bringing about a new era of prosperity in British Columbia. In short, he is elaborating a programme which he outlined some months ago for the stimulation of home production by home buying. In other words, he wants to institute a campaign of self help whereby each individual in the province can, by his or her attitude towards local production, give an immense impetus to industrial activity and thereby substantially increase payrolls throughout British Columbia.

Mr. McKenzie has been very keen on fostering home products. He has had statistics prepared showing the advantages that can be derived, even by a comparatively small increase in expenditure at home for provincially produced commodities in place of buying foreign products. How much greater would be the beneficial results can be easily imagined if there was a complete realization of the purposes which such a campaign has in view. It is to bring about such a realization that Mr. McKenzie proposes an economic conference, non-political in programme to the extent permitted by the London Treaty. Her Government continues to make gestures of disarmament by reduction in programme beyond those arranged for by International Convention. In other words, Mr. Ramsey MacDonald and his colleagues in the Government are willing that Britain should relinquish her proud title of Mistress of the Seas and impair the adequate strength of the "sure shield" of her security.

The Minister of Labor, as chairman of the unemployment committee of the Cabinet, has been canvassing ways and means for dealing with the emergent situation that exists. He and his colleagues have performed a useful and constructive work in the task of distributing relief, and it is a work which has aroused the least possible criticism in a situation that is admittedly delicate. Mr. McKenzie, however, is not satisfied that the solution of the problem, even temporarily, lies in the distribution of relief through the medium of sporadic work. He wants a programme of cumulative results, such a programme as will lead assuredly to industrial expansion and the provision, through that medium, of permanent employment which will not be dependent on economic conditions outside the province. He has in view such a campaign as will persuade the people of British Columbia to give increasing support to provincial industries by buying their products, by enabling them to expand their payrolls, thus adding to prosperity all around. In conjunction with this move he hopes it will be possible to persuade banking houses and financial institutions to extend credit more freely to enterprises under sound management which are engaged in the development of the natural wealth of the province.

There is a third plan which Mr. McKenzie has in view, namely, that of increasing land settlement, and, consequently, agricultural production. He believes it may be possible, through the medium of unemployment relief funds, to give those who wish to follow agrarian pursuits some assistance. The province has ample land highly desirable for agricultural purposes and some of this within easy reach of large markets and with transportation facilities already provided. It is conceivable that a plan such as the Minister of Labor has in view would lead to beneficial returns by providing steady work for those who are now numbered amongst the unemployed. This aspect of relief is wholly in line with the other constructive proposals laid before the Cabinet by Mr. McKenzie.

There is no doubt that what is proposed will be received with satisfaction throughout the province. Mr. McKenzie has already received the most favorable reaction to his home products campaign. At a time like this it has arrested the popular imagination. The first step is the formation of an economic committee thoroughly representative of provincial interests. Such a committee could have sub-committees in all the chief centres of population. Through such an organization a carefully prepared campaign could be engineered, particularly directed to advertising British Columbia's products, indicating their merits and stressing the desirability of buying home-produced commodities. There is every reason to believe that wholesalers and retailers throughout the province would lend support to the plan, assist vigorously in the advertising campaign and let the people as a whole know the laudable purpose that is in view.

Mr. McKenzie can rest assured that the press of the province will assist such an economic committee as is proposed by every means in its power. It is largely a question of publicity, ably sustained. If the Provincial Government takes the initiative and organizes a representative economic committee it will find that half the battle will be won. Mr. McKenzie is to be congratulated on the character of the proposals he has put forward. They are constructive and logical, and benefits of a large and growing kind cannot fail to inure from the putting of them into practice.

SECURITY TRADING

Chart students of stocks very often believe there is some infallible system which rises and falls on the market follow. The market is not a system and never was. Security trading is dependent on a variety of happenings, and some of these are of a wholly unexpected variety that cannot be predicted. It is doubtful if there is any phase of business about which so much has been written, about which so many unreliable predictions are made as the stock market. There is no business in which the ordinary investor can be so easily diverted from fundamentals by the mathematicians and the chart specialists. There is, in fact, no greater speculation in stock exchange gambling than in estimating the future action of markets. The score and one writers on the subject are drawing more on their imagination than on their experience.

An operator on Wall Street for the past eighteen years believes that many of those who are the most assiduous chart students have never been in close contact with the stock markets. He fails to see any use in delving into past statistics of the stock market and emerging from the study with a few fixed ideas. The actual sequence of events in security trading as often as not disproves experience. It is an idle assumption that big traders are successful because they trade by "codes" and pay no attention to stocks as stocks. The operator in question says the successful ones do not trade by "codes." They pay attention to stocks as stocks and Dow Jones averages, bank statements, etc., are only incidental helps. What is wanted more than anything else in stock trading is an understanding of fundamentals and the exercise of ordinary intelligence. Most investors are bemused by the quantity of propaganda issued daily by the so-called experts.

"SECOND TO NONE"

The United States is pursuing steadily its campaign to have a navy second to none. That has been the prime object of both the Washington and the London Naval Conferences. At the first the United States demanded parity with Britain in capital ships. At the second that parity was extended, in principle, to all classes of warships. A ratio of expansion in naval armaments has been followed by all the chief naval Powers, except Britain, since the Washington Conference. Britain has curtailed construction and reduced personnel while all other powers have added to their tonnage and increased their ratings.

The American Secretary of the Navy now announces his country intends to have a navy, "second to none," efficient, well-balanced and capable of ready war-time expansion. The various classes of ships are to be built up continuously within the limits of the London Treaty. The replacement programme will be pursued without pause. That means that, in tonnage and numerical strength of personnel, by 1936, the American navy will be not only "second to none," but will be of greater potential strength than that of any other naval power.

Britain is not carrying on a replacement programme to the extent permitted by the London Treaty. Her Government continues to make gestures of disarmament by reduction in programme beyond those arranged for by International Convention. In other words, Mr. Ramsey MacDonald and his colleagues in the Government are willing that Britain should relinquish her proud title of Mistress of the Seas and impair the adequate strength of the "sure shield" of her security.

A newspaperman has been investigating the causes of distress among the farmers of the Prairie Provinces. The conclusions he reaches are that some are stock market poor, some land poor, some poor through extravagance, and he heard of relatively few broke through farming operations. In other words, most of those farmers who stuck to farming through thick and thin and who built up reserve funds with their profits in the fat years are able to weather the present low price of wheat.

TO A BLACKBIRD

O pagan poet, you
And I are one
In this we lose our god
At set of sun.
And we are kindred when
The hill-wind shakes
Sweet song like blossoms on
The calm green lakes.
We dream, while Earth's sad children
Go slowly by
Pleading for our conversion
With the Most High.

THE DAYS GONE BY

O the days gone by! O the days gone by!
The apples in the orchard and the pathway through the rye;
The chirrup of the robin and the whistle of the quail
As he piped across the meadows sweet as any nightingale;
When the bloom was on the slover, and the blue was in the sky,
And my happy heart brimmed over in the days gone
by.

National Railway Public Ownership Scored by Writer

In the June issue of Transportation, published in Los Angeles, there appeared a review, or rather an editorial comment on the report of Hon. R. J. Manion, M.C., Minister of Railways and Canals, given in the House of Commons on June 17. The comment is headed "The Mirage," and is as follows:

"It is not necessary to say—although we are doing it—that the dismal report of Mr. Robert J. Manion, Conservative Minister of Railways and Canals, in the Canadian Parliament, June 17, is in no degree a reflection on Sir Henry Thornton. As chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, this experienced railroad man has done wonderful things. But he is no miracle-worker, and lacking this quality it was, of course, impossible for him to make two dollars appear suddenly where previously only fifty cents had been in sight."

"Sir Henry is one of the world's great optimists. Declining, several years ago, to argue the question of government ownership of railroads, he declared he had confidence in the future success of the Canadian experiment. Being an American-trained railroad, a native of Indiana, too, he should have known that the most enthusiastic supporters of public ownership for the government ever has succeeded, except in a degree and at a cost wholly out of all sensible proportion to the value of the ends sought. The distressing outcome of Canada's excursion into railroad operation is worse even than its optimists would like to have it, and this is a matter of keen regret."

"This report, for one thing, shows that government ownership has cost the Canadians more than did their participation in the Great War. The war cost Canada one billion 695 million dollars, whereas, at the present, the Canadian National Railways system has cost the taxpayers two billion 488 millions! Of this amount one billion 330 million dollars is owed to the people of Canada, while one billion 158 millions is outstanding to the public in the form of bonds and debentures."

"The Minister of Railways then gave a complete picture of Canadian National financing, starting even out of the history. His three most prominent works were, "History of Railways," "Short History of the Canadian People" and "Remarkable History of the Hudson's Bay Company."

In 1872, Dr. Bryce organized Knox Church, and later, as a development, St. Andrew's Church, in 1871. He was the first moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba in 1874, and in 1902 was named moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly. On numerous occasions he was a representative of religious and historical bodies in Canada on overseas missions.

His wife, who was Marion Samuel of Kingston, Scotland, died ten years ago, and no children survive. Dr. Peter Bryce is a brother.

DR. BRYCE DIES AT GREAT AGE

Noted Religious Teacher
Passes at Ottawa—Won
International Acclaim

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (CP).—One of Canada's greatest religious teachers and a man much in the public eye of another generation, Rev. Dr. George Bryce, of Winnipeg, died at the home of his brother, Dr. P. H. Bryce, here today, aged eighty-seven.

Soldier and athlete in his youth, Dr. Bryce became highly regarded in later life as an authority on religious and educational matters, and his accomplishments during his active life brought him international acclaim.

He had made his home here for the past eight years. In ill health for some time, his death was not unexpected.

PIONEER CHURCHMAN
Noted as a pioneer churchman, teacher and historian, Rev. Dr. George Bryce was born eighty-seven years ago at Mount Pleasant, Brant County, Ont., son of a well-known Scottish family. He was educated at University of Toronto and at Knox College, graduating from the university in 1887 and from Knox four years later after a brilliant theological course.

After graduation, he served as assistant minister in Chalmers Church, Quebec, for a brief time, and was selected to go to Manitoba. From a village of 300, Dr. Bryce saw Winnipeg grow to a city of more than a quarter million, taking a prominent part in its development educationally and spiritually.

In 1871, Dr. Bryce established Manitoba College at Kildonan. Two years later the college moved to Winnipeg, where it is now one of the prominent members of the University of Manitoba. For six years Dr. Bryce was a member of the Winnipeg school board.

PROLIFIC WRITER
One of the founders of the Manitoba Historical and Scientific Society, Dr. Bryce was a prolific writer on history. His three most prominent works were, "History of Railways," "Short History of the Canadian People" and "Remarkable History of the Hudson's Bay Company."

In 1872, Dr. Bryce organized Knox Church, and later, as a development, St. Andrew's Church, in 1871. He was the first moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba in 1874, and in 1902 was named moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly. On numerous occasions he was a representative of religious and historical bodies in Canada on overseas missions.

Limit Enrollment
To Normal School
VANCOUVER, Aug. 5 (CP).—Enrollment for the Fall term at the Normal School will be limited to 220 and applications for entrance must be in the hands of the principal before August 21, it is announced today.

If the quota is reached by that time all applications will not be considered. All must be accompanied by certificates, Normal entrance, junior or senior matriculation of university credits.

This is happening all the time. None of us very fully realize how often we are fortunate. The very thing that seems hard to bear may be our good fortune. It is to wish Peekaboo and Poppy, the young runaway Prairie dogs, as presently you will see.

That first night they spent curled up together in an unfinished house that some Prairie dog had started and then given up. It went down into the ground only a little way, and they were in the shelter for the night. In the morning they started out once more to look for their home, but having no idea where it was they went in the wrong direction. Of food there was plenty, so they did not have to go hungry, but when their little legs grew tired and their heads began to ache, there was no house open to them. Time and again they approached a house, only to be driven away by the owners. How they did wish they hadn't left their own comfortable home!

Finally they wandered out some distance from the edge of the town. There they found some particularly good grass, and as they stuffed themselves they felt in better spirit. They supposed father and mother would say that they had no business to be so far from the nearest house, said Peekaboo.

"Of course they would," replied his brother, "just between ourselves I think they were very timid people. As for me, I'm not afraid. Why, what is there to be afraid of? Just then over in the town an alarm was given, and there was the usual excited scrambling to get into houses. Forgetting that he was not afraid, Poppy led the way straight for the nearest house. What a long way it seemed then! Suddenly he stopped and flattened himself down in the grass. He had caught sight of a member of the Hawk family and knew now the cause of the alarm. He knew, too, that that hawk was too near for them to reach that house in safety. So he did the wise thing, flattened himself in the grass and kept perfectly still. Peekaboo did the same thing.

There they lay hidden in the grass, two as frightened young Prairie dogs as when they first started out. How they might be there in the open, they couldn't feel safe. They had been taught that the only safe place was deep down in the ground. Oh, how they did wish that they hadn't wandered so far from the nearest house. For some time, even after

IMMIGRATION DECREASE BIG

Movement to Canada From Continental Europe Almost Wholly of Settlers' Dependents

OTTAWA, Aug. 5 (CP).—Immigration to Canada during June showed a decrease of 76 per cent compared with June a year ago, the figures being 3,169 and 13,171 respectively. According to a statement issued today by Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, the total immigration to Canada in the three months April 1 to June 30, 1931, has been 10,186, compared with 49,890 in the same three months a year ago.

The greatest decrease is shown in immigration other than that from the British Isles and the United States. The present small movement from Continental Europe consists almost wholly of wives and minor children of Europeans already permanently settled in Canada.

Total immigration for the first three months of the present fiscal year compared with the corresponding period a year ago consisted of British, 3,826, compared with 16,587; United States, 4,807, compared with 9,510; other countries, 1,553, compared with 32,791.

CUT INTO SAFE WITH TORCHES
Soviet Securities Valued at Million Discovered by Buenos Aires Police

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 5 (AP).—The safe of the Yuzhamirov, Soviet South American trade corporation, was opened yesterday, in the presence of officials of the Treasury, Police and Navy Departments, after blow torches had again been used to cut through the heavy walls.

Police found the locked safe when they raided the Yuzhamirov headquarters three days ago, arresting more than 150 people and confiscating a great number of records and documents.

FIND SECURITIES
In the safe, it was reported, the officials found Soviet securities valued at approximately $1,000,000. Other securities and a sum of Argentine money, together with a number of receipts, one of which indicated the payment of approximately $23,500 to Dr. Mario Guido, vice-governor-elect of Buenos Aires Province.

Dr. Guido is a prominent radical and was the radical Vice-Presidential candidate in the recent elections in which Honorio Pueyrredon, former Ambassador to the United States, ran on the same ticket for Governor and received a plurality of votes. Dr. Pueyrredon was since requested to leave the country, and he left for Europe a week ago.

PAYMENT OF FEES
Dr. Guido has been counsel for the Yuzhamirov, as also was Dr. Pueyrredon. The document indicated by the receipt found today, it was said, covered fees for drafting the corporation's charter.

Police indicated that many of the approximately 100 persons who are held after having been arrested in the Yuzhamirov raid would be released immediately.

I earnestly commend you:

—Old Mother Nature.

This is happening all the time. None of us very fully realize how often we are fortunate. The very thing that seems hard to bear may be our good fortune. It is to wish Peekaboo and Poppy, the young runaway Prairie dogs, as presently you will see.

That first night they spent curled up together in an unfinished house that some Prairie dog had started and then given up. It went down into the ground only a little way, and they were in the shelter for the night. In the morning they started out once more to look for their home, but having no idea where it was they went in the wrong direction. Of food there was plenty, so they did not have to go hungry, but when their little legs grew tired and their heads began to ache, there was no house open to them. Time and again they approached a house, only to be driven away by the owners. How they did wish they hadn't left their own comfortable home!

Finally they wandered out some distance from the edge of the town. There they found some particularly good grass, and as they stuffed themselves they felt in better spirit. They supposed father and mother would say that they had no business to be so far from the nearest house, said Peekaboo.

HOME IN UPLANDS
FOR H. R. BROWN IS NEARING COMPLETION

The Uplands has still a great attraction for home seekers who wish to have spacious grounds surrounding a pretentious house. One of the residences now nearing completion there is that being erected by H. R. Brown, on Cotswold Road, from plans prepared by W. J. Semeyne, Sayward Block.
This dwelling, which is of stucco construction, will cost approximately $10,000.
The same architect has plans for the conversion of a two-story building on Quadra and Fisgard Streets into an apartment house. The work is now under way and will represent an expenditure of more than $20,000. There will be ten apartments in the structure.

Flyers Await Better Weather to Take Off For Starting Point

Herndon and Pangborn Eager to Get to Tokio to Prepare for Dash Over Pacific Ocean—Confident of Success

By HUGH HERNDON, JR.
Co-Pilot and Navigator of Round-the-World Flight.
(Copyright, 1931, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

KHABAROVSK, Siberia, Aug. 5.—Our ship is all gassed up, ready to take off for Tokio as soon as this horrible weather permits. When Pangborn and I realized that the severe weather we had encountered had made it impossible for us to better the Post and Gatty record, we decided to be the first to make the nonstop flight across the Pacific from Tokio to Seattle.

We believe we are better prepared for such a flight than anyone else, in view of our Atlantic crossing and the performance of our airplane and motor. We are both eager to be off and find this enforced idleness irksome in the extreme.

SPLENDID TREATMENT
Nowhere could we have been treated better. At Moscow, we were given a letter of introduction and authority to make use of it in case of need as we saw fit wherever we landed. Whatever we have needed was ours on showing this letter. Everyone has been wonderful to us all along the route of our flight, in Russia and Siberia.

LANDED IN CHINA

We left Chita at night for Khabarovsk and landed in Manchuria, despite repeated warnings not to fly near the border. We were kept on Manchurian soil by Chinese for six hours. Then we took off, relieved to find our plane had been undamaged by tampering hands, and arrived at Khabarovsk, where we have been held ever since by unpleasant weather and soggy, rain-soaked fields.

We are borne up by the thought of the nonstop flight to Seattle and are eager to be off.

ORIGINALS PLAN POST-WAR RALLY

Men Who Left With First Continental From Victoria to Hold Reunion Dinner

The passing of years of war and peace has left but few of the originals, who left Victoria with the first contingent of Canadians on August 26 and 28, 1914, for the battlefields of France and Flanders, and to mark the anniversary of their departure from the Capital City, a number of men are planning a reunion dinner to take place at the Empress Hotel on Saturday, August 29.

Because of the small number, who remain in Victoria, of the units that left in '14, namely, veterans of the Fifth Gordon Highlanders, of Canada, the Eighty-eighth Victoria, the Fifth Regiment, section eleven of the Corps of Guides and section eleven of the Canadian Signal Corps, it has been decided to combine forces for the occasion with veterans of other units forming the first Canadian contingent, who may be residing on the Mainland or Up-Island.

It is hoped to have 100, at least, of the originals at the dinner. There were 330 men in the Victoria draft who went directly into action and of their number half were wiped out in the early days of the fighting. Organized by the Victoria union dinner have made a request that any members of the first contingent in the city notify the committee of the addresses of members living outside the city.

The committee is composed of the following: Major P. A. Stern, phone E 4514, Fifth Regiment; Lieut-Colonel Lorne Ross, E 8841, B. T. Bull, G 8191, and J. A. Dewar, E 9942, of the Fifth Gordon Highlanders; L. Gilman, Columbia Paper Company, G 7164, and S. Oliver, Oliver, Stewart, Clark & Co., E 5041.

Last Friday police seized a taxi cab, which they seek to prove was the vehicle which ran into the sidewalk and struck the three Orientals, one of whom subsequently died.

URGENT GENEROUS HELP FOR FUND

Campaign Now Under Way to Raise $250,000 for Relief of Unemployed

More than 850 married men in Victoria, many with families of six to eleven, are existing on $24 a month, the wages for six days municipal relief work. This intolerable condition has existed for several weeks and many families are on the brink of desperation. In order to alleviate this distressing state of affairs Mayor Herbert Anson called into being a committee of citizens, under the presidency of Sir Frank Barnard, which has for its object the raising of a fund of $250,000, an enormous sum, made necessary by a tremendous problem.

An intensive campaign will be inaugurated to raise the required sum. Landsberg has been appointed campaign manager and it will be his duty to see that the canvassers secure the full quota in the least possible time. Experience gained in many similar campaigns, however, and determination, makes Mr. Landsberg an ideal manager. Many organizations have promised to assist him, but more helpers are needed.

The Federal and Provincial Governments contribute 50 per cent of labor costs for relief work, leaving the city to pay the other 50 per cent, and the whole of the material and administration charges. The city has "gone the limit," and it is essential that citizens provide a fund to supplement the efforts of the Government and municipal authorities. The fund, which is for the benefit of unemployed married men in the city of Victoria, will be administered by the civic registration department, and all cases will be carefully examined by an investigating committee.

The city's economy will be exercised in raising and administering the fund. Nothing will be paid for that can be secured gratis. With the exception of a nominal sum for essential full-time office help, there will be no payments made to anyone connected with the campaign. All helpers giving their services to a worthy cause.

Prompt and cheerful giving is hoped for. Hundreds of Victoria's most worthy citizens are victims of an unparalleled state of trade depression. They are men who have helped to build Victoria, who have rendered assistance on many occasions when community efforts have been made to help others. Their mental distress is keen, and that distress can be increased tenfold by lack of a prompt response to the appeal for funds.

CANVASS INDUSTRIES

The first canvassing effort will be made next Monday, when calls will be made on industrial concerns. This will be followed at a later date by an intensive drive throughout the city.

The committee, which responded to the Mayor's appeal for action, will be following every effort to prevent unnecessary suffering, consists of the following well known citizens: Sir Frank Barnard, president; J. A. Sayward, vice-president; Fred Landsberg, second vice-president; E. C. Smith (city treasurer); treasurer: C. F. Todd, R. P. Butcher, Senator G. H. Barnard, Dean Quinlan, Archibald Laycock, Rev. Father Evans, Rev. O. M. Sanford, R. F. Taylor, G. H. Stewart, P. B. Fowler, E. W. McMillen, Captain W. H. Molson, J. W. Benning, Jr., J. H. Fletcher, F. Nation, H. E. Beasley, D. J. Angus, Alderman J. L. Mara, R. H. Swinerton, George McGregor, Fred McEgregor, F. E. Winslow and J. P. Babcock.

An office is established at View and Broad Streets, which will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., where contributions and names of helpers may be left. All citizens willing to assist in the work are invited to call at the office or telephone Garden 1725. Cheques and cash may also be mailed to, or left with, the treasurer, E. C. Smith, City Hall.

ARION CLUB IS AID TO V.O.N.

Splendid Outdoor Concert by Veteran Male Voice Choir Helps Nursing Order

The Arion Club last evening again assisted a very fine cause by giving, from the steps of the Parliament Buildings, an open-air concert in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Singing splendidly, and assisted by the unusually fine acoustic qualities of the atmosphere, the veteran male voice choir overcame the slight handicap of a rather chilly summer night, and succeeded in kindling such fine enthusiasm that even two or three encores were demanded. For the major part of the programme Frank Sehl conducted, but for two of the older selections in the club repertoire Herbert Kent wielded the baton. Mrs. Arthur Dowell presented a popular soloist, and Mrs. C. C. Wain an able accompanist. Dr. Richard Pelt, a member of the choir as well as city medical health officer, made an effective statement concerning the work of the Victorian Order, and Miss Oldfield sent around a corps of twenty-one badged assistants to collect for the cause.

Founded in 1897 on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria as a memorial to Her Majesty from the women of Canada, the Victorian Order of Nurses had begun its activities locally about twenty years ago, it was pointed out. Their manifold services to the community in bedside nursing, child welfare, prenatal, and preventive work were briefly reviewed. Dr. Pelt noting that the effect of their activities here was to be seen in the low infant mortality, the low communicable diseases record, and the generally good health conditions in the city.

THE PROGRAMME

Splendid spirit characterized the work of the choir last evening. The tenors were exceptionally sweet and true, the basses carried a rich and resonant tone; the enunciation was remarkably good, the attack vigorous, the tempo crisply accented—points to the good for an outdoor auditorium especially. The numbers, on the whole, were chosen with good judgment, the more robust type of composition predominating, and some rousing fine effects were produced.

The stirring measures of "The Vikings' Song" (Coleridge Taylor) opened the programme. There followed Humphries' "Three Doughty Men," a humorous selection with six or seven verses in which the basses carried the melody and narrative while the tenors furnished the ornamentation in the form of a regularly interjected "Tarantara!" which became a jolly refrain by the whole choir. Wolkenhuth's "Secret Love," a charming lyrical harmony which succeeded in attaining sufficient body to fill the big auditorium; Bachmann's well-modulated but organ-like "Glorious Forever," the very popular unaccompanied Elsenhofer "He Who Trusts in Malicious Fair," the still more popular "Italian Salad" (Genee), with its absurd churning together of unrelated musical expressions in the form of an operatic aria with chorus, Thomas Kelway, tenor, making a delightful burlesque of the grandiose grand opera style; the "Prayer of Thanksgiving," a songously stately and inspiring male voice composition, sung with magnificent unison; the jolly "Hey Robin, Jolly Robin" (Shaw), which was crisp, neat, with well-marked accents and rounded crescendo; and "Archers' Marching Song."

A GREAT FAVORITE

Sehl, Herbert Kent conducting the favorite old "Arion Waltz" (Vogel), which had its premier in the club in 1892. The good old-fashioned rhythm and lilting waltz tune carried in an upper key by the tenors, while the baritone and bass maintained the more robust qualities in lower register, made a great favorite. Mr. Kent again assumed the baton for "The Happiest Land" (Hutton), a work of more intricate pattern, which was well done.

THIR SOLOIST
"A voice of increasingly appealing beauty was heard in the group contributed by Mrs. Arthur Dowell. Her well-placed and splendidly controlled tone, her clear articulation, and the taste and refinement of her singing made her numbers a delight to hear, these including Terry's "The Answer," sung as a lovely rhapsody, and the ever-popular "My Hero," from "The Chocolate Soldier," followed as an encore by "Wake Up!" Mrs. C. C. Wain accompanied splendidly.

Earl of Athlone Windsor Governor

LONDON, Aug. 5 (CP).—The King has appointed the Earl of Athlone as governor and constable of Windsor Castle in succession to Viscount Esher, who died recently. The Earl's appointment is regarded as an additional recognition of his services as Governor-General of South Africa, a post he held from 1923 to 1930. The programme was well balanced and appealed to the music lovers present.

The evidence indicated that Mr. Partridge, who had been in ill health, had left the gas jets of the range turned on, death resulting before he was discovered by friends.

Continue Search—Police yesterday had failed to locate Major Harold L. Holmes, D.S.O., retired British Army officer, who disappeared last Saturday. Germans Exhibit Fine Confidence As Banks Reopen

Masses Give Government and Financiers Object Lesson in Self-Control by Staying Away From the Cashiers' Windows

By EDGAR ANSEL MOWER
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Today the people of Germany gave a lesson to the German Government, bankers, politicians and professional crooks simply by remaining away from the reopened banks. Th. at least had confidence in Germany's future as an economic unit. They at least considered that nothing is lost while courage remains. Their vast powers of passive resistance that amazed the world during the war came to the fore.

AMAZING SELF-CONTROL
Let this fact be hammered in everywhere: Under the greatest possible temptation at a time when the immediate economic fate of their country hangs upon their conduct, this people manifest simply amazing self-control and thereby have opened the way for real recuperation. For, had they gone to the banks today and demanded their deposits, nothing but a speedy reeling of the banks could have prevented an utter smash and thereby Germany's last claim to world credit would have evaporated. Today at 9 a.m. the fate of Germany was literally uncertain. By 10 o'clock Germany was again fairly solid.

Not only Germans did not line up before the banks to demand money; they actually came to increase their deposits. Attracted by magnificent promises of 12 per cent on ordinary deposits, 12 per cent on call money and 16 per cent on three months time money, they actually produced the marks and duly trudged to the cashiers' windows.

INCREASE OF DEPOSITS
The Commerz and Privatbank reports an increase of deposits of $750,000 yesterday and more than $1,000,000 during the first hour today. An individual investigation at about twenty banks and establishments—the Danst, the Dresdener and other banks of which less has been heard during the last few days—revealed a maximum of fifteen customers within any building at one time.

Never before has any Government's confidence in the capacity of a people to help itself been more magnificently vindicated.

Naturally everything possible has been done to restore public confidence. In the central office of one of the biggest banks, an immense wooden cupboard with wire grating sides simply packed with money was placed exactly where it must be seen by everyone. The money can tonight be placed in the vault or returned to all Reichsbank. It simply was not needed.

AMERICAN BAFFLED
An American banker who had predicted a 50 per cent run for the Dresdener Bank for today admitted that he had never seen anything like the German placidity.

"Don't they want their money?" he asked. "I'm simply baffled."

It seems likely that Chancellor Heinrich Brüning's radio speech last night did considerable to restore the people's confidence. The Chancellor's reputation for solid reliability and courage has grown steadily.

The newspaper Berliner Tageblatt reports that yesterday's radio supply stores did a flourishing business furnishing apparatus and spare parts to citizens who were determined to listen in on Dr. Brüning's speech.

Dr. Brüning's firmness, moderation and courage are apparently just what the people wanted. He explained the present situation simply, adequately banished the fear of the much-dreaded inflation and explained that under present circumstances the Germans cannot expect much assistance from abroad.

NOT ATTEMPTING IMPOSSIBLE
He promised that the savings banks, which are still virtually closed, will soon be opened. He reassured the people that despite apocalyptic rumors of all types, the Government will not attempt to withdraw from the world behind an impossible legislative wall and attempt to achieve an impossible economic self-sufficiency.

He announced that his aim is international economic co-operation with the Anglo-Saxon countries and France and Italy. He very carefully passed over the fact that Germany could obtain "redoubt" credit quickly from France by acceptance of what the Germans consider impossible political conditions, thereby refraining from arousing animosity both here and in France.

Furthermore, the Chancellor attempted to dissuade the people from voting at Sunday's plebiscite to force a dissolution of the Prussian Diet, by the simple sentence, "You will not see me at the polls."

FIRST STEP ACHIEVED
Unquestionably the results are considerable, and Chancellor Brüning can leave for Rome tonight with the feeling that at least the first great step in reconstructing Germany on a new and sounder basis has been achieved.

The long bank holidays, with today's evidence of the magnificent nerves of the people, has led to the following situation:

By making money short, it has considerably reduced political agitation among various sorts of fanatics, thereby proving conclusively that what seemed to be an almost perverse will of part of the people could not subsist without material support.

It has considerably reduced the possibility that the coming plebiscite for the dissolution of the Prussian Landtag will succeed. This scheme, in which the ultra-patriots, Communists and business parties are strangely grouped against all that is rational and moderate, could mean the fall of Chancellor Brüning.

There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute, which was held by courtesy of Mrs. Frank Campbell at her home.

Owing to conflicting events taking place in the district, the committee in charge of the Community Fair, which was to have been held yesterday, was postponed until Monday, September 7. Plans are well under way to insure the success of the fair, which promises to surpass all former entertainments of this kind given by the institute. A variety of games, including house-ho, wheel of fortune, coconut shy, baseball fan, etc., together with fortune telling and competing are among those offered for entertainment. Good prizes will be given.

Proceedings will commence at 3 o'clock on the grounds adjoining the school on Wellington Road, and will continue during the evening, the grounds being suitably illuminated with electric lights for the occasion. The directors ask the cordial support of the residents of the district, as they have taken for their objective the completion of Colquhoun Hall before winter.

At the conclusion of the business, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Campbell, assisted by Mrs. A. McLean, Mrs. Grace Campbell, Mrs. Herman Williams, and Miss Kathleen Milligan.

A very pleasant social visit was enjoyed, the members showing their appreciation by an enthusiastic vote of thanks to the hostesses.

MEL DRANGA... SEATTLE ACE DOWNS HENRY NEER AFTER FIVE-SET STRUGGLE

Eagles Bunch Hits To Defeat Sons in Baseball Play-Offs

Even Series by 9-7 Victory—Brousseau Pitches Fine Ball for Winners—Gandy, Love, Haines Hit Homers—Third Game Tomorrow

UNCHING their hits in the first round of the Senior Baseball League play-offs against the Sons of the Canada last night at the Victoria Park, the Eagles and the Sons will clash in the third and final fixture tomorrow evening to see which squad will battle the right for the championship and the right to meet the Mainland winners for the provincial title.

Although a little wild at times, Bill Brousseau pitched a great game for the feathered tribe, while his teammates clouted the ball hard throughout the seven innings. Gandy, who went the distance for the Sons, failed to show old time form. He was nipped for thirteen hits, two of them circuit drives over the outfield fence by Love and Gandy.

Trouble was brewing before the game as the Sons hesitated about taking the field with Umpire Redgrave calling them behind the plate. However, after a conference in their dugout, the Sons walked on the field and the ball game was on. Collins showed his disappearance in the seventh frame when he broke his bat across the plate after being called out on a third strike with the bases loaded.

FINE START
The Eagles started off in the first inning and scored two runs. Love grounded to short, Nex doubled but was caught going to third on a single. Esler raced home from the initial sack on Gandy's triple. Gandy scored on D'Arcy's single to rightfield. McDonald forced D'Arcy at second for the third out.

Bridgewood's single, Brousseau's double to the fence and Bobby Love's drive over the center-field wiring gave the Eagles a 5-0 lead in the third. The Sons nearly tallied in the third, but Esler's clutch curve over the fence with Johnny Craig on second, Craig had doubled. At this stage Jack Bacon went in to catch, replacing Collins. Campbell and Bill Holman went to left field in place of Herb Doherty.

BEARS WILL BE FEATURE OF MAT CARD
Grappling Animals to Appear on Local Programme Saturday

BRACKAMAN BOOKED TO MEET CAMPBELL

With the world's famous wrestling bears as an added attraction, one of the finest cards ever to be presented to the local followers of the mat pastime is expected to be dished out Saturday night at the Victoria Gymnasium. Bill Brackaman will appear in the main event in eight ten-minute rounds while Rocky Brooks, popular Victorian, will grapple with Bob Schroeder in the semi-windup.

Although the main event and the semi-windup attractions are expected to be two of the best seen in a local ring for the past two or three months, the appearance of the two animals in the preliminary will, no doubt, be a great deal of the fans' interest. The bears are cleverly trained and their various holds and tricks are a treat to watch.

Sarah Palfrey Is Placed on Tennis By Net Committee

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP).—Miss Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, today was named to the American Women's Cup tennis team by the selection committee to take the place of Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., who withdrew from the team yesterday because of her physical condition.

HANFORD SUSPENDED

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP).—Jockey Buddy Hanford has been suspended for ten days by the Jockey Club at Hawthorne. Hanford swerved his mount, Mouthpiece, a Lemar Stock Farm three-year-old, in such a manner as to cut off all but Lady Owen, the winner of the fifth race yesterday. The horse was not deprived of second place by disqualification. Hanford drawing all the penalties.

GANDY HITS HOMER
George Gandy increased the Eagles' margin by hitting one of Cann's fast ones over the centre-field fence, with Bert Neel occupying first in the fifth inning. It was a long drive and cleared the netting with plenty to spare. Two singles and a wild throw gave the Canadians three runs in the sixth. Holman scored on Love's wild per to first in an attempt to complete a double killing. Craig and Collins scored on a fine hit-and-run play by Cann, who hit a hard single through short.

Love was injured in the seventh, going after Holman's high fly, when he collided with McDonald. Holman reached third and scored on D'Arcy's error. Holman hit the top of the netting and Craig singled, filling the bases. Collins fanned, breaking his bat at the same time on the verdict. Haines fled out to end the frame. Two singles, a triple by D'Arcy and an error by Holman gave the Eagles their last two runs in the seventh. The Sons failed to do anything in the eighth and the game was called.

Esler raced home from the initial sack on Gandy's triple. Gandy scored on D'Arcy's single to rightfield. McDonald forced D'Arcy at second for the third out.

Bridgewood's single, Brousseau's double to the fence and Bobby Love's drive over the center-field wiring gave the Eagles a 5-0 lead in the third. The Sons nearly tallied in the third, but Esler's clutch curve over the fence with Johnny Craig on second, Craig had doubled. At this stage Jack Bacon went in to catch, replacing Collins. Campbell and Bill Holman went to left field in place of Herb Doherty.

BEARS WILL BE FEATURE OF MAT CARD
Grappling Animals to Appear on Local Programme Saturday

BRACKAMAN BOOKED TO MEET CAMPBELL

With the world's famous wrestling bears as an added attraction, one of the finest cards ever to be presented to the local followers of the mat pastime is expected to be dished out Saturday night at the Victoria Gymnasium. Bill Brackaman will appear in the main event in eight ten-minute rounds while Rocky Brooks, popular Victorian, will grapple with Bob Schroeder in the semi-windup.

Although the main event and the semi-windup attractions are expected to be two of the best seen in a local ring for the past two or three months, the appearance of the two animals in the preliminary will, no doubt, be a great deal of the fans' interest. The bears are cleverly trained and their various holds and tricks are a treat to watch.

LARGE FIELD EXPECTED TO SEEK HONORS

List of Entries for Seniors' Tourney Numbers 115 Up to Yesterday

TOURNAMENT WILL COMMENCE TUESDAY

With only six more days before the annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament gets under way at the Victoria Golf Club, Secretary J. V. Perks announced yesterday that entries were coming in fast and at least 150 veterans would face the starter in the eighteen-hole qualifying round on Tuesday. Up to last evening 115 exponents of the Royal and Ancient game had filled out the list of names to start the tournament. The official list will close on Saturday and the draw for the opening day will be made on Sunday. Members of the association bent on starting in the medal round are urged to file their names with Secretary Perks at the Oak Bay links as soon as possible. It will be as strong as that about the same number as last year will see off.

From Portland, Seattle and Vancouver are coming large contingents, while Aberdeen, New Westminster, Spokane, Walla Walla, Yakima and Tacoma will be well represented. Of course, the usual local representation will be as strong as in former years, if not stronger.

CHAMP COMING
Last week, J. A. Byerly, of Portland, who won the title last year at Colwood, stated that he would be on hand with hopes of retaining the title, while J. H. Fuller, Aberdeen, runner-up twelve months ago, is coming back with all the confidence in the world, hoping to add the crown to his Washington State Seniors' title, which he captured two weeks ago. Adding two and two weeks of great golf is expected and whoever manages to hurdle the field to win the honors he will know that he has been through some of the toughest opposition in the history of the meet.

Don't Attempt New Record at C.N. Exhibition

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Ray Don, famous English speed driver, and holder of both land and water records, cautioned Canadian National Exhibition authorities last night that he would make an attempt to break his own world's speed record of 102.23 miles per hour on the exhibition course during the Canadian National Exhibition this fall.

With a victory placing them in a deadlock for first place with the Ford, the Ford will be out this evening with a strong line when they clash with the Automotives in the Twilight Baseball League at the Royal Athletic Park at 6:15 o'clock.

If the Ford come through, a sudden death fight will be necessary to decide first place winners, while a decision the other way will put the Automotives in a tie with the Ford for second place. Great interest is centered on the result and a large crowd is expected to watch the battle.

Teddy Colgate will go to the big box for the Ford with Wally Wilcock and Wally Wilcock, while Harry Hubbard or Ed Miles will do the heavy work for the Automotives with Johnny Quinn completing the battery.

B.C. INCREASES LEAD IN WESTERN CRICKET

R. Wenman Stars As Home Province Downs Alberta XI

Victoria Cricketer Scores 142 in British Columbia's Great Victory Over Last Year's Champions—Manitoba Defeats Saskatchewan by Seventeen Runs in Close Match

Manitoba to Play Alberta Today;
B.C.-Saskatchewan to Go to Duncan

CHAMPIONSHIP STANDING

British Columbia	3	0	0
Alberta	2	1	1
Manitoba	3	1	2
Saskatchewan	3	0	3

Scoring its third successive win, British Columbia tightened its grasp on the Western Canada cricket championship yesterday, when the home province defeated Alberta by a decisive margin. Piling up 283 runs for nine wickets, declared, the British Columbia team then got last year's champions out for 101, to win by one wicket and 182 runs.

Manitoba scored its first success of the tournament when it took Saskatchewan to camp in the tune of 144 runs to 127, the closest game of the series.

A good-sized crowd watched the games, which were played on the University School grounds, main interest being centred on the British Columbia-Alberta match. British Columbia's victory gave the home side a three-point advantage in the championship standing, and only a surprising upset can now prevent the province winning back the Dingwall Cup.

WENMAN HITS STRIDE

Reg Wenman, well-known University School sportsman, came into his own when he batted brilliantly to score 142. The Victoria athlete's contribution paved the way for British Columbia's overwhelming victory. He batted more than three hours and played almost faultless cricket, though giving a hard chance when his tally stood at 46.

Going in first with British Columbia's skipper, Percy Broadfoot, Wenman soon hit his stride and played confidently against the accurate Alberta bowling. The hundred went up after ninety minutes' play. Soon after Broadfoot was out to a catch, the captain having scored 31. Scott stayed long enough to net 18, but Bullen, 8, and Eric Quinton, 0, were quickly out.

Ivamy went after the Alberta bowling and runs came quickly, the scoreboard reading 294 for four wickets at the lunch interval. After Ivamy's downfall Dobbie was the only player to get into double figures, and Broadfoot closed the innings at 283 for eight, before 2:30 p.m.

Alberta were given three hours and twenty minutes to bat, but only three batsmen were able to do anything with British Columbia's deadly bowling, and the whole side was out at 5 p.m. for one run over the century.

FALCK STARS AGAIN

The collapse in Alberta's batting came after a second-wicket stand by Falck and Cartwright, and five wickets fell for an addition of only ten runs. Falck's contribution of 43 was again the highlight of Alberta's performance. Higgs put up a stout defence for a time and hit up 21, which with Falck's innings and Cartwright's 15 were the only scores to go into double figures.

The British Columbia bowlers turned in some creditable performances, with Wilkinson heading the averages with three wickets for 12 runs. Rhoades' slow bowled up by some smart work behind the stumps by Broadfoot were responsible for capturing four Alberta wickets for 33 runs, and Ivamy took the other three at a cost of 21 runs.

Falck and Wright did the bulk of Alberta's bowling, with Falck taking four for 108 and Wright three for 47. The 1920 titlists tried out seven bowlers in all.

The Manitoba-Saskatchewan match provided a thrilling finish, with Saskatchewan nearly pulling off a win by a last minute rally. Going in first, Saskatchewan totted 127, the innings closing just before lunch. Manitoba opened confidently and runs came at a merry clip, but after passing the century mark with only four wickets down, the team ran into a bad spell, and lost four more wickets for an addition of only 24 runs, the score board showing the interesting position of 124 for eight.

A ninth wicket stand, however, pulled the game out of the fire for Manitoba, and Saskatchewan's score was passed with 17 runs to spare.

Gillespie turned in the best bowling performance of the day, taking six Saskatchewan wickets for runs. Ball did most of the work for the losers, and his seven wickets were collected for 56 runs. Roney took two for 21.

Today's match between British Columbia and Saskatchewan will be played at Duncan, and a large crowd of fans is expected to witness the match there. Alberta will play Manitoba on the University School grounds.

Doctor Dick's Letter Box

—JIM MATSON

Dear Doctor,

I'm heartbroken. I was madly in love with a girl—in fact, engaged to her. She was my guiding star, my incentive to live; the very blood that kept my heart in action.

Suddenly she slew me. I happened to approach her house, through the back yard, on washing day. The sight that blinded me, and blasted the golden pillars of my love was—oh, Doctor, I thought I knew her—thought she was above all baseness! There they hung—drab and appalling! A pair of heart-withering, unromantic grey "flannelettes!"

Love died. I refuse to marry her. How can I honorably sever our engagement?

Dear Rupert,

You've had a narrow escape, and be thankful you discovered them in time. Delicate as your problem is, you must not mince matters. A girl that wears grey "flannelettes" is capable of anything, and no male, even for a miniature golfer. I can just see her, secreting a frog in the victrola, and "cutting up" generally for the benefit of the choir boys at the annual village picnic.

Ugh, Rupert! It won't do! A week after marriage, and the village pub would be just a memory, and your stomach a shroud for afternoon tea, cucumber sandwiches, and "Bath bun."

Your simplest solution is to trip at the next village dance, and in falling smash wildly but firmly at her skirt. If you negotiate this cleverly, her skirt will come off. Now see her—shriven of all modesty, save for her mortifying "grey!" Would she ever forgive you? Or would even the woolliest-minded ploughboy expect you to marry her? No! So hop to it, Rupert, and good luck.

Yours respectfully, D.D.

Rosenbloom Keeps Light-Heavy Crown

Acrobatic Titleholder Decisions Jimmy Slattery in Fifteen-Round Bout Before Sparse Gathering at Brooklyn—Battle Slow and Monotonous

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, Aug. 5 (AP).—Maxie Rosenbloom rushed into the Brooklyn Ball Park tonight like a circus performer keeping an engagement on short notice, and scrambled through fifteen acrobatic rounds with Jimmy Slattery to keep his hold on the world's light-heavyweight boxing championship.

Although apparently in a hurry to go places and see things, Rosenbloom went the limit and slugged out a decisive victory over the Buffalo Irishman. The champion received the unanimous verdict of Referee Kid McParland and the two judges after fifteen monotonous rounds of cutting and clinching. There was not the slightest resemblance of the knockdown punch in the hands of either boxer, and little action calculated to stir the enthusiasm of one of the smallest turnouts for a New York title fight in years.

Fewer than 10,000 cash customers and perhaps not more than 5,000 gave the big field a semi-deserted appearance. The gate receipts were estimated at not more than $35,000, a far cry from the battle for the same title between Benjenbach and Delany in 1926 that drew close to half a million dollars.

LEONARD WILL TRY COMEBACK

Former King of Lightweights Signed by Jack Kearns for Ring Return

BROOKLYN, Aug. 5. — Benny Leonard, who retired six years ago as the undefeated lightweight champion of the world, has decided definitely to make a comeback, Jack Kearns announced tonight.

Kearns said he has signed Leonard today to a five-year contract under his management and asserted Benny would probably make his first comeback appearance in a Chicago ring, late this month, against an opponent yet to be selected.

He made the announcement before Leonard was introduced from the ring prior to the Rosenbloom-Slatery fight.

According to Kearns, Leonard will be prepared to "defend" the lightweight championship, which he voluntarily relinquished in 1926 and which now is held by Tony Canzoneri. In the same breath, however, Kearns revealed Leonard now weighs 140, fourteen pounds over the lightweight limit and two pounds over the welter limit.

Boxing critics recalled Leonard had difficulty making the lightweight limit as far back as 1923 when he last defended his title against Lew Tander.

SHIELDS LEADS AMATEUR FIELD

Defending Champion Turns in 72 to Head Home Contingent in Medal Round

BROADMOOR GOLF CLUB, SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP). — Out to defend his title against the largest field in the history of the Washington State amateur golf tournament, Johnny Shields, Seattle, sounded a note of warning today when he captured medal honors in the eighteen-hole qualifying round with a score of 72, two over par.

One hundred and sixty-nine players teed off in the annual battle and when the last of the long procession turned in their cards, only four out-of-town niblicists had qualified to play for the crown. They were Ray Roberts, Tacoma; Wally Lindley, Bellingham; Henry Osterhout, Olympia; and Warr Winston, Spokane.

KETCHEL LANDS K.O.

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP). — Wesley (K.O.) Ketchel, Salt Lake City light heavyweight, knocked out Bob Bennett, San Francisco, in the last round of the scheduled six-round main event of the fight card here tonight.

The first good wallop of the fight was enough to end it. Ketchel caught the San Franciscan flush on the button with a sizzling left before the opening stanza was half through and the battle was over.

THE Spotlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1931, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

AFTER ONE OF THOSE DAYS

Here is my driver and mashie.

Here is my locker and key—

When a man makes such a hash, he should really surrender like me.

Here is my iron and putter.

Here is my bag and my ball—I never, never could utter

An adequate phrase of it all.

Here are my hooks and my slices,

My future, in golf, and my past.

Here are my varied devices

And hunches that never would last.

Here is the vixen and strumpet,

You take her and love her—the pea—

I'll sit on the porch with my crumpled tea—I am due for a rest.

And tea—I am due for a rest.

—WILLIAM J. FUNK.

But you'll hear the bunkers still crooning in their lyrical hiss.

From far off their lyrical hiss,

And once again you'll be spooning

The sand from the grottoes and plia.

For the strongest of men is a baby

At warding off golf's ancient gule—

The call that comes whispering,

"Maybe tomorrow you'll hit 'em a mile."

Anything can happen. The Athletes can be beaten for the pennant.

So can the Cardinals. So can Mrs.

Moody for the women's tennis championship. But what odds are you offering?

THE LONGER ODDS

One of the ardent camp followers of sport wants to know whether the odds against one man should be larger in the coming tennis championship or the next amateur golf scrap at Beverly.

The odds in golf are much heavier against any one individual. There are just about six men who can win

the next tennis title—Shields, Perry,

Dog, Vines, Wood and maybe one more.

There are just about twenty or twenty-five who can win the next golf championship with Bobby Jones missing. How many were betting

last September that Charley Weaver and Gene Homans would battle it out to meet Jones in the final?

There may be two almost unknowns in the final—one at least. There is no dominating golfer left on the amateur side—and none on the pro side.

When you figure the important pro tournaments of the last twelve months, the winners included John

Golden, George von Elm, Ed Dudley,

Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Mac

Sinsh, Walter Hagen, Billy Burke,

Horton Smith and one or two more.

Out of the 150 who will start at

Beverly almost anyone of twenty might slip through.

Tennis form runs true to consistent effort. If A is better than B at tennis, A will nearly always win.

This doesn't follow in golf, especially over an eighteen-hole stretch.

Both championships, however, will be won by a man who has never before.

—GRANTLAND RICE.

carry unusual interest since both are so wide open.

GROVE AND FITTING RECORD

Unless some form of collapse sets in, Bob Grove, of the Athletics, should set up the greatest pitching average ever known. He has been working steadily and yet has lost only two games since the first gun was fired last April. He still has some remarkable figures to boot.

He is on his way to thirty victories and should get there under wraps unless Connie decides to let him loaf a bit in preparation for the next world's series.

GENERAL MOTORS RATE UNCHANGED

Regular Quarterly Dividend of Seventy-Five Cents on Common Stock Is Declared

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. —General Motors Corporation directors today declared the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock.

The regular quarterly payment of $1.25 on the $5 preferred stock also was authorized, payable November 2 to stockholders of record October 5. The common dividend is payable September 12 to stockholders of record August 15.

Declaration of the regular dividends had been expected as the corporation had reported June quarter earnings of $12.25 a share. The earnings for the first half of this year were equal to $1.83 a share on the common stock, leaving a margin of 33 cents in excess of the $1.50 common dividend requirements for the period.

The terrific heat has made this a tough summer for consistency, but the tall and willowy left hander moves without a break.

WHY IS IT A "NOSTRUM"?

WHY IS IT A "NOSTRUM?"

"The infamous nostrums of mis-practitioners" used to be a favorite phrase of a certain medical writer.

That the word "nostrum" should have this sense of a quack or disreputable remedy is not very interesting when it is considered that the word itself, in its original Latin, actually means "our own" (or my own).

The word came to be applied originally to the products of those curative medicine men who sold cures, in this allegedly of their concoction, the secret ingredients of which presumably were extremely valuable and known only to themselves.

That these compounds were imminent: that a world revolution is imminent:

A man stands in Red Square, right in front of the Kremlin, blowing away on a trumpet, for all he is worth. He is not a quack, but he is aroused by this strange performance, asks the trumpeter what it is all about. He is told "I am announcing the coming of the world revolution."

The curious one asks: "Really? Do you get much money for it?"

The trumpeter replies: "No, there isn't much money in it, but then, you see, it's a permanent job."

An old-timer is a man who can remember when more motorists than automobiles were seen under auto-pollars.
